Larry Stanley's 500 Classic Auto Buys, Sells Vintage Automobiles

Larry Stanley loves classic automobiles, but restoring and learning all about them as he restores them to their original condition is his passion.

As owner of 500 Classic Auto, 7791 S. St. Rd. 109, Knightstown, Stanley said he specializes in buying and selling pre-1974 American muscle cars. The 53-year-old Indianapolis native is quick to point out, however, that 500 Classic Auto isn't a car restoration service. Stanley's in the business of buying and selling cars he himself restores.

Many locals have speculated on the nature of Stanley's enterprise, located just south of The Paddock building on State Road 109. Passersby may occasionally see a sparkling classic auto at the roadside. But, further clues are scant.

"We'll sell finished and project cars," Stanley, who operates the business with his wife, Doreen, explained. "Some we restore and finish with paint work. We assemble and disassemble cars there. It all depends on the car and what it needs and how much work I feel I need to do. Some cars need a touch-up; some need a paint job. Some need an engine."

Retired from a 20-year career in the asphalt paying business, Stanley got into late model auto sales and quickly took an interest in classic cars. Occasionally, he'd sell vintage autos. Car sales made him money and he enjoyed it.

But, he and Doreen, who handles all the bookkeeping and paperwork, decided it was time to retire. So, they moved from the Lawrence area and bought the property on 109.

Stanley's 500 Classic Auto buys and sells about 100 cars annually. He said he rarely gets attached to the cars that come through his garage. But, some do stick in his mind because of their unique qualities. Once such car was a 1941 Buick customized into a vintage hot rod. "We called it the 'Red Devil' because it was an exciting car to look at," said Stanley. He said it was built by a New Jersey man, who later died. Stanley bought the car at an auction and later helped the deceased man's family buy it back.

But, while the '41 Buick is memorable for Stanley, classic cars in general keep and hold his atten-

"I like experiencing each car and how unique it is as they compare to new cars," he said. "I'm always surprised these old cars survive as well as they do for all the passing years I like finding out how each one

Stanley said he's always in the market to buy clas sic cars that need fixing up, or that are already refur bished. For more information, call 765-345-5211 o
